San Francisco Outlaws White People Calling 911 on Black Criminals: CAREN Act

Never mind the homelessness epidemic, rising rent costs, drug addicts and diseases not seen since the dark ages reappearing: the real problem in San Fran is black crime being reported to the police. That's right, if you're White and being assaulted, raped, mugged or stabbed by a nigger or wetback, you can't call the police (from ABC7):

> San Francisco supervisors unanimously voted on Tuesday to pass the Caution Against Racially and Exploitative Non-Emergencies (CAREN) Act that makes racially-motivated phone calls to 911 illegal.

I get it, liberal suburban soccer moms (most of whom aren't actual moms) are annoying as all things. However, their naïve, highly selective liberalism, living far away from the diversity they virtue signal about liking, I might add, is not going to save them from either the black criminals or lawsuits that ruin their lives (from SF Chronicle):

> The name of the law — Caution Against Racially and Exploitative Non-Emergencies — is a play on the internet meme of "Karens," which represent entitled white women complaining about people of color. The law…would allow people to sue the 911 caller in civil court if they felt harassed or discriminated against by the action.

Obviously this is in response to White people calling the police on black criminals and the George Floyd fallout, but you know how this is going to work. If white people in the Golden Gate City call the police for a genuine reason and the prep is not White, they will get sued anyway. This will happen even in cases where the White person was seriously injured. I doubt anyone can even live in that shithole city but if you do, leave now. The police are not your friend nor will the come help you. Well, they might, but you'll get sued for it anyway.

PS: Frisco will also be using a lottery system to decide who gets into one of their competitive high schools, because why use an actual metric like GPA when you can just roll a dice?!? Fucking nuts bruh!
